New Year, New You

I wonder if you have ever felt like this, like what is happening in this picture. Do you ever feel 'on the edge'? Or perhaps you have felt like you are drowning. Maybe you have been on thin ice before. Or maybe even like you have gotten too far from shore. Perhaps you have found yourself in hot water or in the deep end.

A new year is the perfect time to reevaluate life and your disposition and the posture of your heart. Like finding yourself at a crossroads, a new year is a perfect time to change the trajectory of your journey and reallocate your steps in a new direction. Especially if you find yourself flailing in the deep end or skating on thin ice. A new year is a wonderful time to start fresh, to be intentional toward your future, to discover there is a Lifeguard, a Lifesaver, who wants to help you be the best version of yourself you can possibly be, to be a new you. Jesus desires we stop swimming against the current and surrender ourselves to His lifesaving measures for each of us.

"See, I am doing a new thing! Now it springs up; do you not perceive it? I am making a way in the wilderness and streams in the wasteland." Isaiah 43:19 NIV
