Life is a tapestry.

A lengthy journey woven together with so many threads of being, so many shades of life, so many instances, so many narratives, so many experiences, so many varied expressions. The Lord is the Master Weaver, designing and creating something beautiful within the woven fabric of our lives.

He is consistently weaving together our stories, preparing a tapestry that becomes…us! In Christ, we are all part of that tapestry; one that speaks a testimony without words, just threads, woven together. We are spun by the hand of a Holy God, designed for His purpose; the fabric of His plan, unique and perfected by His handiwork. We are a blend of grace, intentionality, the miraculous entwining love that creates something far greater than just you or me. What's more, we are knit together, from the moment of our conception—in our mother's womb, He wove me, He wove you, into being. How incredible that He knows everything there is to know about you, about me. Before we even were, He knew us, who you'd be and who'd I'd become. (Ps. 139:13-16)

He sees me! He knows the intimate details about me. Even when I try to hide from Him, He sees anyway. It is up to me to abandon myself to Him, and when I do, the picture He is creating can BECOME so much easier, effortlessly, completely. When I surrender the threads of my thoughts which run thru my mind—the ones that create a tapestry within a tapestry—I give Him permission to pull a thread to unravel my thoughts. In so doing, my focus is then intent on Him and who He is making me to be, who I am becoming. Find me safe. Find me undone. It is His grace alone that makes all things new.

1 Peter 4:10, 'Every believer has received grace gifts, so use them to serve one another as faithful stewards of the many-colored tapestry of God's grace." (TPT)
